Robert Korth is an Extension Lake Specialist at the University of Wisconsin Stevens Point and director of the UW Extension Lakes Program.

As a member of the Extension arm of the Wisconsin Lakes Partnership (also WDNR and the Wisconsin Association of Lakes WAL). He travels Wisconsin assisting people, lake organizations, and local governments with various water related issues and water policy. The work includes aquatic ecology but also focuses on the social dynamics of lake management with organizational assistance, leadership training and help on issues such as recreational use conflicts, and shore land development.

For 13 years Korth has worked as part of a state team to develop, design, deliver and published educational materials, and publications on a host of lake and water related subjects. He has co-written Life on the Edge.../ Owning, Water Front Property, Through The Looking Glass...A Field Guide to Aquatic Plants and most recently How's The Water? Recreation Use on Wisconsin Lakes & Rivers.
